

Volunteer Month...

For its first seven years Comfort International had no paid staff and was run by volunteers. Since those days we now have salaried staff but the work our volunteers do has continued to be phenomenal.

In every area of the charity volunteers are at the heart of our work. This has the quadruple advantage of greatly reducing our staffing costs which has enabled us to keep sending 100% of designated donations and more than 90% of undesignated donations to the projects in Africa, of tapping into the skills and commitment of such a wide range of talented people, of enabling us to do so much more in terms of activities, sponsorship, monitoring and evaluation, publicity, admin than staff alone could achieve, and of those volunteers being great ambassadors for the charity.

Volunteer Role Spotlight part 1

With so many options of ways to volunteer with Comfort International, we wanted to showcase a couple of the options. First up is our need for someone to help us develop our case study resources. What does this mean? What does it involve?

Within the context of Comfort International's work, case study are abbreviated versions of a community or individual's story. Highlighting the main points where they have seen transformation and presenting them in a compelling, truthful manner.... Read More

Volunteer Role Spotlight 2

With so many possibilities of volunteering with Comfort International, we wanted to showcase a couple of the options. Our second spotlight is on the role of Sponsorship Head. What does this mean? What does it involve?

Sponsorship has been a central aspect to Comfort's fundraising and support portfolio since 2013. We have been blessed to see hundreds of people sponsoring individuals or groups since then.... Read More

Comfort Transformation Centre Update

We are excited to bring you the latest report direct from Comfort Rwanda on the progress of the Comfort Transformation Centre (CTC) in Kigali. It has been wonderful to see the progress on the building work over the last few months as we get closer and closer to the CTC becoming a reality... Read More

2025 recap and looking forward to 2026

So many people remarked last year on how quickly 2025 passed and here we are moving quickly towards the end of January 2026 already. Despite its quick passing 2025 was a full and eventful year.... Read More
